

CARNEGIE INSTITUTION OF WASHINGTON
DEPARTMENT OF GENETICS
COLD SPRING HARBOR, LONG ISLAND, N. Y.

June 20, 1957

Dear Joshua,

I can't make any very definite statement. As you know I am very happy here and hate the thought of making a change — I mean hate the thought of the mechanics of change.

However, I realize the great advantage of better facilities, perhaps, and better contacts — chiefly with your group and with genuine biochemists.

The chief issue, though, both from your point of view and mine, is whether I want to do more teaching, graduate or otherwise. So far as I can tell, my urge in this direction is negligible.

I can't visit you next month because Jill and I have planned a very full vacation schedule beginning July 6.

I suggest that we think about it on both sides during the summer and reach a decision in the fall. I certainly do not wish to say no at this time.

I hope you and Esther have a profitable and pleasant stay in Australia.

Sinc

Al

P.S. To give you one definite fact: my present salary is $9500.
